

SPIRITUAL PROGRESS THROUGH WORSHIP

July 29, 2020

If you could see into the realm of the spirit what has been happening in this place tonight, you would rejoice even more. For you see, you have bathed My Presence with your worship and you have given to your Father what He said He desires – those who would worship Him in spirit and in truth.

But even more than that, if you could see what you have done to the enemy this night. For you see, when you begin to praise Me and worship Me as you have in this place this night, it is of great concern to the enemy of your soul, for he does not know how to respond to this. He cannot stand it because there is a glory that is released through this praise and worship that brings about confusion in the camp of the enemy. It brings about a blindness to their ability to carry out their plans against you.

You need to understand that, this night, you have made great advances in My kingdom. Your emotions are not a part of this; it is your spirit. And you have made great progress in this place tonight.

Your praise and worship have not gone unnoticed in Heaven. For you see, you have captured the attention of Almighty God. You have captured the attention of the Son. You have captured the attention of the Holy Spirit. We have received your worship and we have moved appropriately in your midst. There are those of you tonight who have experienced change within – a change that will not go away. There are some of you tonight, during this praise and worship, you have released some of the worries that you've been carrying around; and in the place of those worries, you have received peace.

My Presence is in this place. I have been working through this praise and worship and I want you to know, you are shining with My Glory in the realm of the spirit. You, you, have established great victory in this place this night and I say to you, be free with your worship. In the services to come do not allow yourself to be controlled by what you feel. Do not allow yourself to be controlled by the circumstances of your life. But open up your heart and worship Me and praise Me and release what lives on the inside of you. I want you to know I am working in you and through you to bring about revival in this region. Do not stop. Keep pressing in and you will see Me move, says the Lord.
