

TRANSITION HAS BEGUN 2020-11-29

There is a time of great transition quickly approaching. For I have found many in My Church throughout the world who have been seeking Me more than they ever have in their lives. This is enabling Me to move in a most wonderful way in the realm of the spirit.

There is a great transition that is coming. This transition is going to be an increase of My Glory, My presence and My power flowing through so many in My Church. For you see, this is a part of what revival is all about. I will demonstrate Myself through those who have fully submitted unto Me, not just in this city or in this country, but throughout the world.

Just like when My Son Jesus was ministering on the Earth – no matter what He did, there were those who opposed Him. You should be prepared that no matter what I do through you there will be those who will be in opposition, not just in the world, but also within the church.

You must be strong, strong in Me. You must not allow your emotions to get caught up in the conflict that is coming. You must remain stable in Me. Do not lash out but submit to My working in you. For My Son has already prophesied that there would be division, not just within groups, but also within families.

You must understand that not every family who calls upon the Name of the Lord will see every family member saved and living for Me. Because, you see, people have a free will. Your confession cannot violate their will, but it can create an atmosphere of conviction in their lives. But in spite of that conviction, it doesn't mean that they will call upon the Name of the Lord. They can stay in rebellion if they choose. You must get that settled in your heart. Because as long as you're trying to change your family members, as long as you are holding on to them, as long as you are crying out and asking Me what you can do, asking Me to help you bring about the change – it means you're holding on, not turning loose and releasing them unto Me.

You will not be able to change people, but you can submit to the change that I will work in you. Remember, even My Son, when He was ministering on the Earth, had family members who did not believe in Him and they rejected the fullness of who He demonstrated Himself to be. You must make Me first in your life and, as you do, I can begin ministering peace to you concerning friends and family members who are in rebellion to Me.

But this transition is coming. It has begun and it will increase and continue to increase up unto the time of the return of My Son. Be prepared. Be prepared for the opposition. Be prepared for the rebellion, the rejection. Be prepared for the ridicule. Be prepared, but continually press into Me, and My Glory will be released through you and you will be as a city set on a hill shining with the light of My Glory.
