

SEEING REVIVAL GLORY
20200531

This revival that has begun in My House is rising within various denominations and is challenging the traditions, doctrine, and status quo of those denominations. There will be a crumbling within all of them because too many in their leadership are more concerned with their organization than they are My last days move. They will maintain their way instead of embracing My way. They will paint over the rust of their staleness and error in an effort to continue to look grand in the eyes of people. They are not too dissimilar to how Jesus described Pharisees as being whitewashed sepulchers, glistening white on the outside, but on the inside full of dead men's bones.

The dead religious traditions and misinterpretations of My Word will not breathe life into My last days revival. The purging process you must endure is not simply a matter of purging sin, spiritual lethargy, and matters of the flesh; it is also about being purged of doctrinal error, the kind of error that has tainted and infected so many revivals in the past.

All of My children are called to this revival, but few are choosing to enter in. I have repeatedly said that if you will press into Me, you will see My glory demonstrated. To press into Me means you must start and not stop until you see the results. This is a process and it takes effort and time from you to be accomplished. But if you will be diligent and not become weary in the well-doing of seeking Me, revival glory will build up within you, then flow from out of you and you will see a renewing and a revival not seen since the early days of the Church.

I am not a man who can lie, I never lie, and I cannot lie; therefore, these things I tell you are guaranteed by My very eternal existence as Almighty God. Yes, I tell you, fight your flesh, keep pressing into Me, and you WILL see revival glory flow through you.
