

THE GREAT SEPARATION 2021-1-24

My Church has entered into the most critical time in all of history. These are the last days, but they're not the last of the last days. There's so much turmoil that's happening in the world, but this should not surprise you. Not only have these things been foretold in Scripture, but I've raised up prophetic voices which have said the same.

There is a separation taking place within My Church. It has been going on for a period time and it will continue. All of the teachings, the prophetic declarations, all of the sermons directed to My Church, instructing My Church, delivering truth to My Church – it was all preparation for what is now happening. You see, that was a season of instruction and warning of what is to come. I was revealing to My Church what is required to go deeper into Me and to live a life of righteousness as exemplified by My Son Jesus.

Too many of My children did not catch on. They heard these sermons, they appreciated them, but they did not apply them. Many of them have drifted away. They have embraced a truth that is not a truth, but it is soiled truth, corrupted truth. It began as truth and then it was twisted and delivered in a way that was very good sounding, but extremely misleading.

This separation is going to continue, but it's very critical for you to understand to not become complacent in your walk with Me. Do not assume that you have fully arrived. You must maintain the position of the Apostle Paul, who stated that he did not count himself to have arrived as of yet but was continuing to press toward the mark. This must be your standard as well. Do not think that you have made it to the place to where you cannot be deceived. I say to you, assume that you can be deceived and continue to press into Me, preparing yourself for what is coming.

In the natural you have seen a tremendous amount of division and conflict between conservatives and liberals. But I say unto you, there is coming an increased conflict within My Church between spiritual conservatives and spiritual liberals. It is going to continue and this is the setup for the great falling away. So I say to you, guard your heart. Continue to press into Me. Do not make foolish assumptions that you're further along in Me than you really are. Understand there is much, much more for you in Me.

But I also want you to know this: I have great pleasure in those who have pressed into Me and they are separating themselves from that teaching that would lead them astray. Remain teachable. This is so critical for these last days. Remain teachable. I am moving. Revival has begun. Do not go by what you see in the natural. Receive My Word and accept My Truth. Revival has begun and it's going to increase in power, in glory and in results. Stay focused on Me and you will not only see a great move, you will be a part of it, says the Lord.
