

Going Deeper Than Before (PD220130A – Jan 30, 2022)

Do not be afraid to go deeper in Me, do not be afraid for that intimacy. I want to take you to places that you've never been, and in those places there will actually be discomfort. You'll feel like your flesh will be squirming, but don't take that as an indication that something is wrong. You're going deeper into Me than you have ever before. Just keep pushing back through this squirming, pushing back the voice of the flesh that would want you to quit, and keep coming deeper into intimacy with Me. It's not just going to be in these times, in these services here, but it's going to be in your personal times. It's going to be in your times at home as you worship Me. I'll come into this very place. I'll come into that place of intimacy. And even in those times you're going to feel some squirming, but again, just keep coming deeper into Me.

This is the hour that I've been declaring for years in this house and in many such like it and it is upon you. Do not be afraid. Do not be afraid of what you see in those places. For those things in your flesh that you don't even know but that are hidden, well, I know about them. I know about them. I see them. I know they're there. But in those places of depth and intimacy with Me, those things will be gone as you trust Me. Constantly keep putting it back on the altar. One day it'll be gone and you're not even going to know the change all the time. So, don't back off, don't be afraid, for this place of intimacy is where I want to bring you
