

Things That Must Go (PD220227A – Feb 27, 2022)

Some of it will feel nice, but it's things that must go because He knows what you need. Some of you will feel like He's cutting to the bone, and that's okay because He knows how to heal you too. The knife is short and swift because He knows how to make it the least painful as possible. But this scalpel is coming to every heart and every life who allows Him. So do not fear, do not be afraid because it is for your good.
