

Make the Right Decision (PD220720 – July 20, 2022)

The decisions that you're facing that you think are going to be too difficult will not be difficult if you make them with My strength. They're decisions you know in your heart you need to make, but you're very concerned that the result of the decision would be great conflict. However, you need to know that My obedience to the Father resulted in great conflict. I made many decisions that people did not like, even My own family. And there were times of great conflict.

I say to you, do not let your love for others cause you to make decisions that are outside My will. Take a stand for righteousness. You will not stand before Almighty God in judgment for the way others have rejected Me. You will stand before Me in judgment for what you have done with Me, for Me according to My instructions to you.

You need to understand, you cannot save anyone; only I can do that. So, be strong in Me and make the decisions you know in your heart you're supposed to make and do not worry about the aftermath. Cast the care of it over on to Me. Let Me work My work. You are not accountable for the way others turn their backs on Me. But you will be accountable if you turn your back on My instructions to you. Do what you know to do. I will be there with you and help you through it and you will experience My victory and My presence and My peace, says the Lord.
