

You Must Learn to Receive (PD220814 – Aug 14, 2022)

God's healing power is in this place right now. His deliverance power is in this place right now. The God of everything is in this place right now. And the same is true for those of you watching. He's there with you as well. There is nothing that He can make available to us that He has not already made available. God says,

All too often you're crying out for Me to do that which is already been done, which is already completed in Jesus. Your lack of understanding of the total victory that Jesus has given you is a major hindering point in your life. It's hindering you from fully receiving what has already been fully designated for you as a joint-heir with Jesus.

I cannot give you any more than what I have already determined to give you. The difference is you receiving what I have already declared is yours. So I say to you, learn to receive. Learn to receive. When you do you will start receiving from Me those things that you have felt I have been holding back. But I'm not holding back.

So continue pressing into Me and receive from Me all that I have for you. Remember what I said in My Word that, in My Son Jesus, every promise that I have made to you is yea and amen. It is settled and all those promises, they are yours. So learn to receive and you will receive the manifestation of what I have declared. I am your Father, I am God and I cannot fail you.
