

Don't Muffle Your Worship (PD230115 – Jan 15, 2023)

Don't you know that I put praise and worship in your heart and mouth? Don't you know it? But when you muffle the praise, when you muffle the worship, who's going to praise for you? Who's going to worship Me in your stead? I've given each one of you the ability to worship and to praise. By you refusing to open your mouth, refusing to set your heart upon Me, you're saying, "It doesn't matter, somebody else can do it without me." The Lord says tonight, I don't want your excuses, I don't want your excuses, I don't want your excuses when I have given you everything you need to worship Me.

I am not looking for a pretty voice. I am not looking for doubt. I'm looking for your heart in your decision to override fear [and being] uncomfortable to sing My praises. You see, because there is a level of intimacy and relationship that happens only in this place of worship and praise that you will not get any other way. So My people, when it's time to sing, sing. When it's time to praise, praise. When it's time to worship, worship.

For I have given you that ability and I am done with excuses. You say, "God, this is too hard, it's too much." But [He says] I'm with you. I've never asked you to do something you couldn't do. But I will never override your will. So when you come to this place of corporate worship, it's like practice so you can go home and do it. So don't let these moments pass you by because in this river of My worship and My fellowship and My intimacy is everything you've been looking for.
