

Following God Into Revival (PD230322 – March 22, 2023)

I would say unto you, just as I led Israel by cloud by day and a fire by night, I want you to know that I am leading you. But just like Israel had to follow, you must follow. I told Israel that as long as the cloud and the fire stayed in one place, that's where they were supposed to be. But when the cloud the fire began to move that they were to pack up and begin to move and follow that cloud and fire.

I say to you, pack up. Begin disassembling your tents, begin getting ready, because in the spirit, I am moving. I am moving and I am taking you to the next place where I want you. I am moving in the spirit, and I'm asking you, please be prepared, pack up your tents, and follow Me. Some would misinterpret this and think that I am saying that you need to move from the place where you live, in your homes physically, and I'm not saying that.

Hear me closely. I am saying, do not stay comfortable where you are spiritually. Be ready to move, for I am moving. I am leading you to the next place of My glory and outpouring. I need you to be ready. I need you to move with Me and set up camp at this next level to be prepared for what I am doing and what I am bringing in.

I say to you, hear Me. Hear My words and take Me seriously. For just as there were those in Israel who saw it as hard work to have to pack up and move again, there are those who would say, "I don't know about this, I don't know what I can do or what I'm supposed to do." But I say to you, if you will hear Me, if you will spend time with Me, you will know what you are supposed to do.

Too many in My Church are lazy. But I say to you, shake off the dust and prepare yourself for what I am doing in the spirit, for you are ready for this move, and I am leading you to a new place in Me. So be ready to move forward. Pack up. Be prepared. Declare yourself ready to go and let Me lead you. There is more that I am going to do and there is a greater outpouring that I have reserved for you.

So be ready for this. I'm leading, it is coming, and it will arrive on all those who are ready for it. The time is short, the outpouring has started, and revival is coming, says the Spirit of the Lord.
