

The Coming Fire (PD230402 – April 2, 2023)

There's going to come a fire. The word I'm hearing is "blast," like we can't even imagine. Nothing you've ever seen. Nothing I've ever seen. The wind of the blast is going to be so powerful, it will just knock everyone down. It is coming. These are the preparations of that. It's going to be so powerful that you're not even going to need to stir yourself up because it's going to overtake you. For those who allow the Lord to move, His fire will consume you. The good kind of fire, the fire that ignites you, that causes you to be a witness for the kingdom, that deals with all the junk in your life, all the sickness and disease. This blast, it goes away. But the warning is, it has to be a heart that has prepared itself for Him. There are many, many, many who are going to receive of this blast, but there are those who will miss it because they weren't ready.
