

God Wants you in Peace (PD240721 – July 21, 2024)

My will for you My people, is that you would enter into My rest. The fullness of what that means, yes, it's your salvation. So many times I watch as My people run around frantically, living their lives and attending to all their activities. And it's not that I stop loving them; I always love. You're always My child. But it is not My will that you walk around, run around frazzled – full of torment, that's what it is.

Come away with Me, My beloved. Still your hearts. Still your minds. Do not let the rat race take over your life and your thinking and your emotions. For there is a peace in Me that you have not even tapped into yet. I want much more rest for your life, much more rest for your emotions, much more rest for your minds. And that only comes through time with Me, making adjustments in your life. Let go of the busyness, make adjustments, make changes so that when I call you can say, "Yes". Peace, peace, peace, My people. Peace, peace, peace. Peace like a river now overtaking your mind, your emotions, that comes straight from My throne room even now.
