

YOU ARE NOT A CASTAWAY PD210110B

Jan 10, 2021

I sit on My throne and I look at the hearts of so many of My children. They're walking in fear, feelings of defeat, despair – all because of what they're seeing in the natural. They seem to have forgotten that I am still on the throne, that I am still God. I want you to know nothing has happened in this nation or the world that I did not already know about before the foundation of the world.

You may feel hopeless, but I am the God of hope. You may feel as though all is lost, [that] there is great defeat. But I am the God of victory. Have you forgotten this? Why are so many of you allowing your minds to be filled with the things of this world that only seek to instill defeat, fear, discouragement and distractions? I say to you, I'm still working. I'm still working.

You may think all doors have been closed, but I say to you, there are doors wide open. Just because you don't see them or perceive them doesn't mean they aren't there. I am God. I know the beginning from the end, and I know everything that happens in between.

I say unto you, do not continue listening to the voices of despair. I speak of those in My church that are filled with that despair. Do not let them speak into your life. You must focus on those who are focused on My Word.

I say to you, the worst is not happening. The worst is yet to come. Have you forgotten what is written in the book of Revelation? You're still living in a time of victory in My Presence. You may not think so, but I'm God and I think so. And I say to you, stay focused on Me. Keep your eyes on Me and what I have promised in My Word.

You are My children, not My castaways, and you dwell in My house. So continue to look unto Me and know this: I am moving and you are going to witness Me moving in greater measure in the days to come, says the Lord.
